Keynote Speaker Biography

Dr. Kristine Dery
Research Scientist, MIT Sloan, Centre for Information Systems Research (CISR)

Kristine’s research in the dynamic between technology and the way that people work has been a focus of her publications and teaching for the last 15 years.

Currently she is investigating the design and management of the workplace to understand how organisations use digital capabilities internally to create more effective ways of working, and the impact of new ways of engaging with talent in the digital era. This work has stemmed from a historical research focus on the relationship between HRM and IT, Mobile Connectivity, Human Resource Information Systems, Gamification, and Remote Working.

Kristine previously held management roles in the tourism and airline industries in Australia, New Zealand, and the UK. Kristine is based in Sydney and is responsible for fostering research relationships with companies in Australia and New Zealand.